of course you MIGHT keep your money in an old stocking, under the carpet or in the oven of an old stove as your ancestors did.

But why adhere to a risky antiquated custom like that, when we offer you every modern safe-guard for your money and pay you reasonable interest besides.

TAKE NOTICE

Respectfully yours,
JOSEPH WHEELER, JR.,
City Clerk.

USES BEER TO PUT OUT THE FIRE

Beer has been put to various uses, and while many complain of a fire inside after using any amount, it is recommended for Louis Pfahning of Marshallfield to use beer in putting out the fire. Louis drives the Brewery truck up there and while on one of his trips recently the motor backfired and started a fire in the car-burator. Mr. Pfahning followed out the usual course of rules in a case of this kind and threw dirt over the fire in an attempt to smother it. This was unsuccessful and as he was about to desert the ship the idea struck him that the load of liquid matter aboard might be of value in a case of this sort. Seizing a case the bombardment started and before long the fire had to give in and the journey was finished much the same as nothing had happened.

WATER SUPPLY WELL IS ABOUT COMPLETED

The new concrete well that has been under construction at the end of Oak street is about completed. The top being laid on this week. The work is being carried on under the direction of Gus Schuman and to date not a crack has developed in the entire job. This is a remarkable circumstance for a piece of construction as large as this job and City Engineer Philboe and Mr. Schuman are in line for a little credit.

The water for this city has been taken out of this well for the past week and the supply has held out well. One night about 210,000 gallons of water were pumped from the one well, and while the water lowered a few feet, when it reaches a depth of seven feet it will redill fast enough so that the pump cannot empty it. The water is very clear and is of first class quality, and while there are also a number of water plants in this neighborhood they are not needed at the present time.

When completed the well will cost in the neighborhood of $3,000, which means that we now have completed a water supply that provides more water than we formerly had at about one-fifth the cost of the former construction work. From all appearances there can be no number of these wells constructed in this same neighborhood without serious interference to each other, and ought to indicate that our drinking water problem has been solved for a while at least.

STATE HOTEL MEN IN SESSION HERE

The hotel men of the state arrived in this city on Tuesday and were received by the local reception committee and the band. Breakfast was taken at the Witter and the morning taken up with a business session. The address of welcome was given by the visitors by Mayor E. W. Ellis and the response by C. A. Hunt, president of the association. Following these talks A. R. Hirst, state highway engineer, spoke on good roads and several other prominent men in the association spoke. Luncheon at noon was enjoyed at the Dixon, where a very attractive menu had been arranged. The afternoon was taken up by another business session, while the ladies were entertained by a visit to the city and surrounding country. In the evening the annual banquet was held at the Witter Hotel and was one of the most elaborate affairs that was ever held here.

On Wednesday the party made a trip to the Arpin cranberry marsh, where they were shown the berries in growth and when they returned to the city they were taken through the Consolidated and up to Lake Biron. The evening's entertainment will be a band concert on the west side, after which they leave for the Dells. The meeting has been a most successful one, about 75 in attendance, and the delegates state that they are being royally entertained.

TWO BRIDGES PRACTICABLE

More or less has been said the past few weeks in the city papers concerning a new bridge across the Wisconsin river at this point, some preferring to tear out the old bridge and put in a new modern structure, while there is also a faction that would like to see a bridge put in across the river starting at a point directly above the Witter Hotel and coming onto the west side directly below the Consolidated Mill. In the first place we would say that two bridges are impracticable in a town of this size, or of one even considerably larger, and in the second place the site up river is undesirable through the fact that the volume of business and business places are down where the present bridge stands.

What we want first is one good bridge across the river and we want it in a place where it will benefit the most people. We would say that the present site is the place for the new bridge should there be one put in. Not because the Tribune office is near the present site nor because any other single business in this neighborhood would be benefited by the majority of the business of the city is in the immediate vicinity of the present bridge and was put there with the intention of having it close to the bridge. The main street of the west side leads directly down to this bridge the town was built around this bridge and any attempt toward moving the bridge up the river is practically deceiving the people who are already erected their places of business. Putting the bridge up the river would be much like many of these towns where the depot is about a mile or two from the village, it's there all right and you have to use it, but it's not where they would place it if it were to be placed by the people. The bridge up there would lead to nowhere on the west side, and would exclude the big part of the business district on the east. The present bridge starts in the business district and ends in the business district. Putting a new bridge up the river would mean that the present bridge would be left where it is, thus requiring constant repair, as it would receive the balance of the traffic anyway, and if it is in a safe condition for heavy traffic it has a decided advantage of hiding the fact. It would be a fine thing to put in a new bridge and a few months later have to spend several thousand for repairs on the old one. Then the fact that we have the old one to place across Lake Biron when we take it out is additional evidence that that is the proper scheme. Taken all in all it seems that there is really no argument about the matter when the community as a whole is considered, and it is quite likely that if we put in a new bridge it will be on the site of the present structure.

One of the local papers takes up the matter and says that the present width of Vine between the bridge and Second street is 34 feet, and that to increase the size of the bridge would mean that the bridge would have to be built on the site of the old bridge, and the street would have to be condemned. This statement was no doubt made in good faith after looking at the plat of this section. However, the actual width is really 54 feet. An additional 24 feet was allowed after the plat was drawn up. As the present bridge has an 18 foot driveway, it means that we could double this driveway, leaving the sidewalks the width of those on the bridge and still not take up the complete street.

SAYS THE DEALERS TRIM THE FARMERS

We risk to ask Grand Rapids "how long, oh, Lord, how long?" You have been asking, begging, almost compelling us farmers to come to town fair day, the second Tuesday of each month, to sell stock, trade horses, and spend our cash in the stores. Will the honorable Mr. Mayor of Grand Rapids please spend next market day on the square, note the number and quality of "old plugs" the omnipresent jockies have and count the worthless "skins" soaked onto innocent, unsuspecting farmers, many of whom have but a few dollars, need a horse and unable to understand or talk English—are gouged or robbed by the tricksters, and often sold a skate that dies on the road home. That has happened, and we protest with the right to run through the lumber, pick up useless horses, and like birds of prey, light upon a bunch of unsuspecting helpless farmers and fleece them because of a widely advertised "regular monthly stock fair." And again, the jockies can "auction" off a string of numberless horses and "get away with it," never paying the farmer for the horse. It is no sale and $1.00 for a sale, but just let one poor farmer, who perhaps has to borrow the 50 cents, try to walk out of the ring with an unsold horse and see how quickly George Hammill and John Bell, Sr., jump him for the 50 cents, and the farmer doesn't get away until the four bits change hands. Try announcing a stock fair for a Friday after the Tribune announces it in a good article Wednesday and the Reporter Thursday and you will have the farmers and no jockies. Try that one month—change the date with only a two days' notice for each occasion and the fair will cease to be such a joke and a farce, or, as previously requested, let Mr. Ellis or some trusty of his be there to inspect each transaction and see the farmer get a square deal as the itinerant jockey who times out of ten forages on the country through which he passes.

No, no personal grudge, as we have never had a horse deal in the Rapids, and we always try to know our man before we either sell or buy a horse. But some dealers we have seen are rank, stinky—and as we see the same thing each month are persuaded that no one in power knows how bad are the conditions or how long, oh, Lord, how long? would long ago ceased to have had relevance.

The above article, written by one of our former friends, probably contains more truth than fiction, but at the same time it is impossible to protect the whole community in a horse trade. Farmers are habitual users of horses, and to a certain extent should be able to judge an animal and know whether it is worth $150 or only thirty cents, and if they cannot do so they could generally secure a friend to look over a horse and tell them whether it was worth the price that is being asked for it. It is the theory of some people that one party is always beaten in a horse trade, and that the dealer is always the winner. This is a gross mistake. It is probably a fact, and the chances are that it is not the dealer that gets skinned. It would seem as if every farmer would have some friend who could give him a bit of advice on an occasion of this kind and thus save him from squandering his money for something that will be of no use to him.

WILL WE HAVE A HOME COMING?

The suggestion has been made by a prominent business man that Grand Rapids have a Home Coming in 1917. The idea is a good one and there is no better time than right now to take the matter up and push it along, thus, by the time the event comes off we will have had time to complete the arrangements in detail, and will know enough about an entertainment of this sort to put on one that will be long remembered.

The first step in the arrangements will be the forming of some sort of an association or organization, which will have direct charge of the matter and will go ahead with the arrangements. A committee to go over the names of former residents call on citizens for names of people who formerly lived here and look thoroughly into the matter of who should know that we are to have an affair of this nature. There will also be an advertising committee that will look up the history of the city, finding out who the early residents were and the advertisements that were fundamental in working for the progress of this city. They will probably compile a booklet that will be sent out, describing the city, and along with this will probably be some advertising done in foreign papers, where there are known to be former citizens. It is hoped to get the citizens here as guests of their former friends as much as possible, thus saving them no little expense and also relieving the hotels to a certain extent, as the hotels will be crowded to more than capacity if the affair is pulled off. This will also make some of them feel as if the city was glad to have them come back and that the Home Coming was not merely a method of extracting their money from them. As there are usually several families from the same town in a town where there are any, it is probable that there will be no trouble in securing plenty of names of citizens who will be interested in the affair and if we can show them that we are really to offer something that cannot be enjoyed every day it is probable that they will be glad to get back among the old friends.

There will probably also be committees to take up and arrange for the different entertainments, although they will probably be selected at a later date. It is suggested that we also have a big parade during the affair that everybody would take part in, having ribbons and all the things that go to make such a thing a success. Of course the amusement part of the program will be a big thing and if the matter were pushed right along now it would probably be well to appoint a committee to go out to some other city in the state that is giving a home coming and look over their plans and make up their minds as to what they would like to do during the affair that everybody would take part in, having ribbons and all the things that go to make such a thing a success. Of course the amusement part of the program will be a big thing and if the matter were pushed right along now it would probably be well to appoint a committee to go out to some other city in the state that is giving a home coming and look over their plans and make up their minds as to what they would like to do during the affair that everybody would take part in, having ribbons and all the things that go to make such a thing a success.

MAIRFIELD FAIR OCCURS THIS WEEK

The annual Central Wisconsin Fair occurs this week at Marshfield, it having started on Tuesday and ends on Friday. The attraction has been well advertised this season, and judging from the amount of interest that the farmers of this section are taking in the matter, it will be well attended.

Thursday has been selected as Grand Rapids Day, the local band having been engaged to be there and a special train will be run up from this city. Both Wm. T. Wolfe, candidate for United States Senator, and Robert M. La Follette, present senator, will be present to address the people. Mr. Wolfe to speak at 11 a. m., while La Follette will speak at 12 m. The afternoon will be taken up with attractions put on by the different amusement companies that will be present and a number of horse races. There will also be some judging in the big pavilion on the fair grounds, and the day promises to be an interesting one. Friday will be Governor's Day, and Governor F. J. Williams, Democratic candidate for Governor, will also be present Friday and will speak in the interests of his campaign. Races and amusements will take up the balance of the day.

The fair this year is to be carried out along instructive lines as well as an amusement attraction. There are to be cattle exhibits and demonstrations that will be worth coming miles to see, and along with the number of notable men to be present, makes the affair an unusual one. The men in charge are to be congratulated on the program offered and there is no doubt that the county will be back of them in their support.

LOCAL MAN REPORTED MISSING

La Verne Trask, a young man who has made this city his home for a number of years past, was reported missing last week, and to date no trace has been found of him.

Mr. Trask has been living at the Bandelin hotel to the past couple of years, where he had roomed with his brother, William Trask. Thursday morning he was in his usual good spirits and was about the hotel until 10 o'clock, when he left and has not been seen since that time. He was last seen between the hours of 10 and 11 o'clock that morning in the Consolidated park, altho the statement has not been verified. He had been employed at the Consolidated but was taking a vacation. Trask was a model young man, in fact, Mrs. Bandelin, at whose hotel he lived, and everybody that enjoyed his acquaintance, state that he was a very nice man, and that he was not a smoker, never entered a saloon, and was very seldom seen with girls, and where he has disappeared to seems rather hard to say. He was a diligent student and most of his evenings and spare time was put into this work. The fact that he never picked up with any associates and was in the company of his brother whenever he went out to any extent deepens the mystery also, as this explains any theory of his leaving town with a chance acquaintance. The depot report that he has not purchased a ticket out of the city and unless he left in a car, it is probable that he did not leave. Friends and acquaintances state that he positively would not leave town without notifying at least his brother, and as he had made no previous mention of such a move to anyone, it is thought that he was while temporarily out of his mind. Being a persistent student this theory is entirely probable.

Trask has brothers living at Brook and Green Bay, and it was at first suspected that he had gone to Brook to work, he having had several offers to enter the paper mill there, but an inquiry reveals the fact that he has not been there. There is also a possibility of his being at Green Bay, his brother there being in a machine shop, and at last reports it was impossible to locate him. The disappearance is causing his brothers no little worry, altho he may have left the city without notifying anyone. It is feared that some accident has befallen him.

DEATH OF JOHN GLEBEK

John Glebek, one of the old residents of this section, died at his home last Wednesday after an illness covering a period of about a year. Mr. Glebek has long been a resident of the town of Grand Rapids, but had recently moved to this city to reside.

Mr. Glebek was a well known citizen throughout the county, having been farming in this section for a good many years, and had reached the age of 72 years at the time of his death. He was a good citizen and a prominent man in his community during his health, and leaves a large circle of friends to mourn his death. He is survived by a wife and four sons. The funeral services were held on Sunday afternoon from the German Lutheran Church, Rev. Radke of the Kellner Lutheran Church, conducting the last rites, interment being made in Forest Hill cemetery.

WON FROM CLINTONVILLE

Grand Rapids went over to Clintonville on Sunday and played with the baseball team over there, the result being that Grand Rapids won the game by a score of 2-1. The game was a hotly contested one, Grand Rapids starting right off in the first inning and getting their two scores, while Clintonville came back with one in their half of the first. After this no scoring was done by either side, although Grand Rapids had a man home and he was called out for not touching second. It appeared to the local boys as well as the crowd that the base had been touched, but as the umpire didn't see it that way there was no use arguing. Devine got 7 strikeouts, while the other pitcher succeeded in getting 5, and the Grand Rapids boys annexed 7 hits, while Devine allowed but 2. Grand Rapids will play next Sunday and Monday down at Berlin, where they have one of the fastest teams in the state. Following that Clintonville and Shawano will be played here, and both of the latter are figured among the best. The fans will have a last chance to show the team that they are there with the support and at the same time to see a class of ball that can not be beat in the state.

CARNIVAL PROVES ATTRACTIVE

While the general public did not seem very strong for the carnival that showed here last week, it is evident that an attraction of this sort does not strike all persons and cities in just the same way. Over at Stevens Point a carnival showed there the same week the Heinz show was here and since that time several of the young people of that city have disappeared, a couple of them having been allowed to join the show by the management, while others have not been located although they are probably in a similar situation. One of the girls who was in the show is searching for excitement managed to get a position in the Days of '49 Camp, where it is stated that there is an excellent chance for promotion and a liberal education. However, she is not the first man being to be attracted by the bright lights and will probably, like the rest, see the mistake after it is too late to remedy it.

BARGAIN DAY WAS QUITE WELL ATTENDED

Bargain Day in this city occurred on Monday of this week and there were quite a few farmers and others that took advantage of the affair and came in to do their trading.

The local merchants had prepared some very attractive offers for that day, and the way the public responded indicated that they appreciated the bargains. These Bargain Days are held about every three or four months and advertise the city in nice shape.

It is expected to take the matter of a Grand Rapids Day up at the next meeting of the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association and at that time the amount that will be spent on the affair will be taken up. The people expect a Grand Rapids Day and it would hardly do to disappoint them now.

RACE OVER YELLOWSTONE

The Yellowstone Trail Association are arranging a race over the Trail, to commence from Plymouth, Mass., and end at Seattle, Wash. This distance is 2,659 miles and the intention at present are to make the run in 120 hours, which means an average of 31 miles an hour will have to be kept up to make the run on schedule. This is a pretty good gait it would seem when every description of road is taken into consideration. C. W. Andrae of Stevens Point will carry the letter from Stevens Point to Marshfield, a distance of 36 miles, and he is allowed one hour and 45 minutes for the run. It is reported that a car of less than 55 horsepower will be allowed in the run and that safety-first will be the slogan that will be used. Safety First is a good slogan but seems a little out of place when you are expected to make an average of 31 miles an hour.

BAND CONCERT GOOD

The first band concert played with the stand on the river bank drew out one of the largest crowds that ever attended a concert in this city and as the music was excellent, all were well satisfied. Of course the new location made it impossible for those present to select the best place to hear the music, but it seems that the east river bank is as good a place as any and offers a safe location out of the traffic. The new location seems to have about hit the mark all right and now if the river banks could be lighted up a little more in this immediate vicinity and in a drinking fountain put in things would be about complete for this season. The music at this concert was well rendered and along with a vocal solo by Arthur Mulroy it was a very pleasing affair. The concert this week will be played tonight on account of the fact that the band will be at the Marshfield fair on Thursday.

SCHOOL OPENS MONDAY

The public schools of this city will open Monday and at this time the children are no doubt looking forward to that date with no little joy. The high schools are offering a new course for the students this year, in the form of a teachers' course. A student may take three years in the high school, and during the fourth year go over to the Wood County Normal, where they will take a year's work. In the spring they will come back to the high school and graduate there, but on a certain certificate will be able to go out and teach school. This is to benefit those who cannot put in so much time preparing for teaching, and it is evident that it will be a popular course.

HAD FOOT CRUSHED

Mose Marcoux, who has been in charge of the construction work on the Jackson Milling Company dam, at Stevens Point, suffered a painful injury one day last week when a workman threw a falling stone sixteen feet down into a pit where Mr. Marcoux was working. The stone crushed the member quite badly although Mr. Marcoux expects to stay there and continue the work.

ENTERTAINED OFFICIALS

Ex-Mayor Joseph Cohen entertained the present city officials and the ex-officials who served under his administration at his club house up river on Sunday, about forty responding to the invitation. A big chicken chowder was prepared by Gus Schuman for the boys and after a couple of hours of watchful waiting it is needless to say that they did justice to the preparation. Following the dinner cards were played and a social session entered. The gathering was most enjoyable one for those present and one long to be remembered.

CAN'T SHOOT UP SIGNS

A Marshfield lad was recently arrested up there for shooting up some signs that Marshfield merchants had put up, and was brought into court where he paid a fine and costs amounting to $5.45. This is about the time for boys to get the hunting fever and they should bear in mind that this offense, while a common one, is unlawful and had better be avoided.

ADVERTISED MAIL

List of advertised mail at Grand Rapids, Wis., August 28, 1916:

Gentlemen—Col. J. D. Emery, Mr. Ole Gunderson, M. Mikulander.

Marriage licenses have been issued in Portage County to Martin Joostin of Rudolph and Anna Stelzer of Carson and Matthew Stelzer and Anna Hoaglin, both of Carson.

BEETLE WILL WRESTLE

Fred Beell, the only man who has had the distinction of throwing Frank Getch will give the fans of this section a chance to see him in action at the Marshfield fair tomorrow, when he will meet Steve Faulkner of Texas. Faulkner has established quite a reputation as a wrestler and the match should be a good one. The fact that the proceeds will go to the band and company that are now down in Texas is also an inducement that the hall will be packed. The match will be started at 8 o'clock to give the Grand Rapids people time to see it.

SINGLE MEN WON GAME

The married men and the single men of the Elks held their annual ball game at the ball park on Sunday, the result being that the single men took the game by a score of 10 to 9. The game was hotly contested all the way, the married men carrying the day until the latter part of the game, when the singles took a spurt. Crowns came up in the fifth and put out a home run with the bases full and is in line for the honors of the day, although there was some clever work on both sides.

—Opening of Wood County Normal and Agricultural School. The Wood County Normal will open Tuesday, September 5. The School of Agriculture and Domestic Science will open Tuesday, October 10.

BABY DRANK FLY POISON

Helen, the two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Dorst of Vesper, is dead as a result of drinking a dish of fly poison that had been laying about the house. The accident occurred on Friday evening, and although medical aid was immediately secured, it was impossible to save the child's life, death occurring Saturday morning. The funeral services were held from the church at Arpin, Rev. Anderson conducting the services.

WILL PICK CRANBERRIES

The annual cranberry picking season will start next Monday and as the crop is a pretty fair one this season, it will probably extend over a period of at least three weeks. The local berry growers were fortunate this season to have a crop that is even normal, as blight and the hot weather did much to injure the crop in other sections. It is reported that the eastern crop will be light and the berries will probably be a trifle high this season.

WILL REMODEL FRONT

Smith & Luzenski have a crew of men at work on the front of their store, it being their purpose to have this entire front torn out, and a new, modern entrance erected. The new front will have a center entrance, with large display windows on either side. The work will be rushed right along and it is expected to have it finished next month.

Growing Girls and Boys

Every physical or mental act that is performed uses up millions upon millions of red corpuscles of the blood. The demand is enormous and continuous. Is it any wonder that the active boy and girl should manifest this need by hunger? Proper food is required so that the system may form new red corpuscles.

HEMO is a concentrated food made with the idea of supplying many of the elements needed in assisting nature to rebuild old blood cells and to manufacture new ones. It is so pleasing to the taste, so easy to assimilate, and so well tolerated by the stomach that a minimum amount of effort by the digestive system is required in converting the food elements into red blood corpuscles.

It is an ideal lunch for the boy or girl, or a pleasing beverage at meal time. Its use will convince you.

Makes a delicious food drink by simply adding water.

PROGRAM FOR TRACTOR MEET

The men in charge of the Wisconsin Tractor Demonstration, which opens at Madison September 8, have given out the program that will be carried out. The attraction promises to be a very good one and there will be no doubt be a good attendance. Monday will be given over chiefly to arranging the exhibits, although private demonstrations will probably take place. Tuesday will be Madison Day and will be taken up by private demonstrations in the forenoon, while the afternoon will see all the tractors lined up for action. Wednesday will be Farm Implement Dealers Day, and again the tractors will be in action. Thursday will be good Roads Day and the tractor will demonstrate their use in building roads. It is expected to plow a 200-acre field in one hour, and the feat should be an interesting one to see. Friday is Drainage Day and special machinery for digging ditches will be shown on this occasion.

Eighty manufacturers are expected to take part in the exhibit, and the tract in which it is to be held includes 830 acres. The committee in charge expect to entertain at least 50,000 guests at this time, so it can be seen that the gathering will be an unusual one. One of the facts that the committee wishes to establish is that the demonstration is to be free and likewise will the exhibits on the grounds be free.

Much has been said throughout the county (without telling the truth) as to how long I have held county office. I have held the office of Sheriff for one term only, and it is customary to reward a public official with a second term. My term in office gave me experience and acquaintance, so that I will be able to serve the county even better than I did before. I respectfully ask your support.

—In seeking the nomination for county clerk on the Republican ticket at the coming primaries September 8 I take this method of notifying the general public that I will be a candidate at that time. I feel that I have the ability to properly handle the duties of the office of county clerk, and if my friends see fit to place me in the office I shall make every effort possible to give them and the public in general the service that they are entitled to.

Respectfully yours,
SAM CHURCH.

KILLED BIG LION

One of the most vicious lions ever owned by Ringling Brothers was put to death in Appleton last week. The lion, which had been in the circus for several months ago the animal attacked his keeper, who struck him over the nose with an iron weapon, fracturing some of the bones. The injury kept getting more serious and as there was no means of treating it the animal was finally relieved of his suffering. The lion cost its owners $2,500, and its pit was worth $300. The nose is the most sensitive part of the lion's body and it is this a keeper always aims at when attacked.

GORED BY MAD BULL

Louis Mundt a farm hand employed on the Clara Markke farm, near Appleton, had a narrow escape from death last week when he was attacked by a young bull. He was attempting to lead the animal from the barn when the bull made a charge, knocking him to the ground. The beast then proceeded to tear him up as much as possible and the farmer's wife probably have been killed had it not been for neighbor boy, Irving Anderson, gone by and heard the commotion. He ran to the barn and, seizing a pitchfork, drove the animal out of the place, and medical aid was secured for Mundt. The man was taken to the Marshfield hospital, where he has since been resting easily and indicates that he will recover.

WAUPACA LAD KILLED

Clifford Dunbar, aged 12, is dead as the result of being struck while riding a motorcycle near Waupaca last week, and Frank Hubbard, of Weyauwega, is being held on a charge of manslaughter.

Dunbar was riding with a cousin on a motorcycle near Waupaca at about 8:30 in the evening. It is stated that two cars approached the cycle, the first one striking it and inflicting the injuries that later caused Dunbar's death. The cousin received but slight injuries. The car caused the accident did not stop but ran on. It being several days later that it was found after a clever piece of detective work. The owner, Frank Hubbard, is being held on $1,000 bail, it being stated that the prosecution was being carried out chiefly through the fact that the car ran on without stopping.

TROUBLE WAS NOT CAUSED BY APPENDIX

The 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Baker, of Auburndale, had an unusual experience the past week that could cause some comment on the theory for the cause of appendicitis. The young man had been suffering for a short time, supposedly from appendicitis, and was removed to the Marshfield hospital to undergo an operation. The attending physician went through the proper procedure for snipping off the appendix all right, but was surprised that that member was normal. A more minute investigation revealed a piece of solder, about two inches in length about the size of a knitting needle, in the young man's abdomen. It is evident that the foreign element was swallowed along with some canned goods, but was a little heavy for the digestive organs. The metal was removed and the young man is getting along as nicely as can be expected.

NEWS NOTES FROM WISCONSIN PLACES

Adams County Press: Rev. Fr. Redding of Grand Rapids and Rev. Fr. Pollack of Neenah were guests of Rev. Fr. Delisle Monday night, and went to Brooks Tuesday to assist in the dedication ceremonies of the new Catholic Church at that place.

Drawn by one horse, a ton load of dry grinding rod sold for $8,000, was brought to Antigo last week by John Fairseries of Chicago. Mr. Fairseries owns several grinding rods in Langlade county. The price paid for the grinding averaged $4.00 and over a pound.

Kilbourn Events: Five autos went into the ditch at Sarrington hill, near Delton, last Sunday. The macadam had been oiled late the day before and in coming down around a sharp bend a high speed car skidded and slid into the ditch. One car from Washington state, carrying a man and a woman, turned turtle and caught fire. Neither occupant was even severely hurt, and help being available not very much damage was sustained to the car. This is not an especially bad accident, if it were not of speeding, and the large number of accidents Sunday was owing to the freshly oiled road.

An important decision on the 1913 Mechanics Lien Law was handed down by Circuit Judge Martin L. Luck recently, holding that no lien is created unless a notice is served within sixty days, as required by law, and that accordingly, the laborer and principal contractor as well as the sub-contractor is required to serve this sixty day notice to be protected by the aforesaid law. The cause for making this decision was a case before the court, in which the plaintiff had appealed from the decision of the justice court in favor of the garnishee defendant.—West Bend News.

Fishermen along the Big Eau Claire river recently discovered the skeleton of an Indian near the bank of the river, it being supposed that the body had been buried there and that a slight change in the course of the river had washed it out. Nothing was thought of the matter at the time but an investigation later revealed some Indian relics, among them being beads, a stone hatchet and some arrow heads. This vicinity seems to have been a favorite place for Indians to make their headquarters years ago.

Alfred Bratz, a little boy about eleven years old, was shot and killed Tuesday night near his home at Roosevelt by another boy, Harold Richards by name, who is about thirteen years old. In all probability the shooting was accidental. After the shooting the older boy tried to drag his dead companion to the woods, it is thought because he was scared. The boys were the best of friends and had gone out into the woods together on a hunt, after taking the gun from the house secretly. The officers and undertaker went out to attend to matters, but the Richard boy was hid away in the field because of fright. Harold is grandson of Mr. Collar and lives with him, and is frequently spoken of as Harold Richard Collar. Further investigation will be made into the matter.

WILL NOT BE HERE

Robert M. La Follette, who was scheduled to speak at the Amusement Hall this evening, was called to Washington suddenly on Tuesday and will not appear here as was advertised. ## BROWNE LOOKS GOOD

As the race for nomination of representative in Congress between Edward Browne and Michael G. Eberlein draws toward the primaries, it looks as if Browne was the man for the nomination all right. Mr. Browne has made a good effort, seemingly working for the interests of the people and has spent his time in Washington when there was a session going on. While there are a number of the old stalwarts back of Eberlein, it looks as if they have missed their guess this time. While we are on the other side of the fence and look for a Democratic victory, if it were to be a Republican Browne would look the best of the two.

THE MILLION DOLLAR DOLL

—Mr. Harvey D'Orr's big sensational musical comedy success, "The Million Dollar Doll," is the next big attraction booked at the Daly theater on September 6, 1916. This is one of the most widely discussed musical comedies of the day, pronounced by both press and public to be the most attractive farce comedy, along with catchy music and dancing girls, ever crowded into two hours and a half of enjoyment. Beautiful gowns, whistling music, a thousand laughs and the greatest singing and dancing chorus in musical comedy, all go to make the "Million Dollar Doll" the biggest musical comedy sensation of the season.

A big scenic production is carried, including special electrical effects and big novelty scenes; taken all in all it looks like "The Million Dollar Doll" will be the one big musical treat for local theater goers this season.

HUNTING SEASON WILL BE OPEN SOON

The hunting season will open September 7, when it will be legal to kill prairie chickens. The season for prairie chickens opens October 1. The indications are that the birds will be more numerous this year than last. The deer season does not open until November 11. Predictions are made that there will be more deer this year than for several years. Hunting licenses are now being issued by the county clerk.

CHURCH PICNIC LABOR DAY

The annual Vesper-Arpin-Sherby Labor Day Tri-church picnic has been announced. It is to be held at Blue Hill Grove, northeast of Arpin, this year, on Labor Day, Sept. 4th. These picnics have established a reputation for being a good class of entertainment and it is probable that the usual large crowd will attend. A general invitation is extended to the public to attend and have a good time.

IS ENJOYING TRIP.

Word comes to the Tribune from Prof. M. H. Jackson, who is making a boat trip of the great lakes, that things are looking rather dubious as to a safe return, but that he hopes to survive in spite of a drawback. There are thirteen at the table, the trip was started on Friday, he saw the moon over his right shoulder, and various other signs have come to notice that are calculated to make the voyage end disastrously. We expect to see the professor back about the first of September, however, even with the odds against him.

Mrs. Frank Garrison has been on the sick list during the past week.

Let It Stop Your Figure Mistake Losses

An error made when you add up a cash sale while the customer is waiting, or an error that escapes detection on a charge sale slip are losses that can never be recovered.

If the mistake is in your favor, the customer resents the over-charge and is likely to quit trading with you. If the error is an under-charge the customer will be most unlikely to say anything about it. So in either case you are the loser.

You need this Burroughs to protect your profits—to stop your figure mistake losses. Your customers will recognize it as a service—it will create their good will and help you in building up your business.

You Can Use It on the Counter

Merchants in different lines of retailing are using this Burroughs Figuring Machine right on the counter where they wrap up the goods. Clerks add cash and charge sales on the Burroughs, and every customer is handed a machine-printed slip that shows each item of the purchase and a total.

Customers appreciate this service for they are convinced of the merchant's desire to protect them against over-charges. At the same time it protects the merchant against figure mistake losses.

An Aid to Clerks

In its operation it is as simple to understand as your cash register. Any clerk can learn to add and print on the Burroughs in a few minutes. He gets a correct total every time, because the Burroughs can't make a mistake.

It is an investment that will pay for itself many times over in losses prevented. If you prefer, you can buy this Burroughs on easy terms.

Write to the Burroughs office in your locality—address given below—and let us arrange for a demonstration of this machine on your own work.

WAUPACA LAD KILLED

Clifford Dunbar, aged 12, is dead as the result of being struck while riding a motorcycle near Waupaca last week and Frank Hubbard, of Weyauwega, is being held on a charge of manslaughter.

Dunbar was riding with a cousin on a motorcycle near Waupaca at about 8:30 in the evening. It is estimated that two cars approached the motorcycle, the first one striking it and inflicting the injuries that later caused Dunbar's death. The cousin received but slight injuries. The car that caused the accident did not stop and it is being several days later that it was found after a clever piece of detective work. The owner, Frank Hubbard, is being held on $1,000 bail, it being stated that the prosecution was being carried out chiefly through the fact that the car had been on without stopping.

REMEDIES FOR IYV POISONING

Direct contact with poison ivy plant is not always necessary to produce poisoning, as the poison may be transferred from clothing, gloves and implements, also from towels used by those who have been in contact with the plant. When there is reason to believe that there has been exposure to the poison, repeated washing with warm water and strongly alkaline soap as soon as possible is advisable. There is no one remedy that will cure all cases of ivy poisoning, and in severe cases a physician should be consulted. Specialists of the department have found the following methods and formulas useful in many cases: At the outset, removal of the cause of the irritation may be accomplished by cleansing the inflamed surface repeatedly with alcohol, or with a saturated solution of sugar of lead in alcohol, using a fresh bit of lint or absorbent cotton each time, to avoid spreading the irritant. The sugar of lead solution can not be used over extensive areas because of risk of lead poisoning. Covering the inflamed parts with lint or absorbent cotton kept constantly moist with lime-water or with a saturated solution of bicarbonate of soda will afford relief. When this can not be used, a simple ointment such as zinc oxide ointment, is recommended. A solution containing 1 ounce of fluid extract of grindelia to 1 pint of water applied on cloths and allowed to evaporate may afford relief. Black wash, prepared by adding 1 dram of calomel to 1 pint of lime-water, may be applied two or three times a day, allowed to dry, and followed by zinc oxide ointment. This treatment must be used with caution in extensive cases because of the possibility of mercury poisoning. The acute inflammation of ivy poisoning is sometimes followed by eczema and secondary infections of the skin, which, in mild cases, will yield readily to treatment with bland antiseptic ointments. A formula highly recommended for ivy poisoning and often especially helpful at this stage is the following:

Carbolic Acid ..... 2 grams
Resorcin ..... 2 grams
Bismuth subnitrate ..... 4 grams
Equal parts water and limewater to make ..... 250 c. c.

CHEAPEST NOT ALWAYS BEST EVEN IN FEEDS

Hello, Sam, what's feed worth today?"

"Well, Jim, I'll tell you. We have bran at $21, shorts at $24, cottonseed meal at $35, and oil meal at $32."

"Well, I guess I'll save money by taking bran. It's the cheapest, and my feed bills are too high already."

After overhearing this conversation in front of a feed store, one naturally asks:

"Was Sam right? Is the cheapest feed necessarily the most economical? Where does economy stop and loss in feeding value begin?"

In many instances it is the price rather than quality that sells the feeding stuff. A certain feed at even a higher price may however be much more economical to use than another which costs less. Abundant pastures or plenty of roughage may balance the ration better with this feed than with a cheaper kind.

Buyers of feeding stuffs in Wisconsin are becoming more and more discriminating. A corresponding willingness to advance to better standards is shown on the part of dealers and manufacturers.

Wisconsin farmers no longer need grope in the dark concerning any feeding stuff sold on the market, but may learn its quality by getting in touch with the feed inspection department at the College of Agriculture. Besides collecting samples throughout the state, the department issues, each year, a bulletin listing all the feeds sold in the state, together with their actual composition. The amount of protein, fat, and fiber, as well as the price per ton at the time sampled and the name of the firm manufacturing it is included in the information given.

The different feeding stuffs such as oil meal, blood meal, tankage, corn gluten feed, shorts and bran are discussed and their feeding value explained. Terms of the trade, such as protein, ash, fat, often used in speaking of quality in feeds, are defined. This bulletin, "Facts for the Food Buyer," will be sent to Wisconsin farmers upon application to the College of Agriculture, Madison.

POLITE MOTORISTS PUT OUT THE LIGHTS

When Meeting Another Machine on Country Road at Night—A Load of Hay Has the Right of Way.

When meeting another machine on a country road at night one of the nicest things you can do is to stop and extinguish your lights until the other machine has passed, and if you never were a gentleman before it will take a great deal of argument to convince the other driver of the fact. Again, when you are in no particular hurry and another machine comes up behind you and wishes the road give it to him. Don't dispute the road with him, it makes for bad tempers on both sides, and if he is half way decent he will be sure to get far enough ahead so you will not be bothered with his dust. When you are passing a machine going in the opposite direction give him his full half of the road; we have found that a good way to do this is to keep your left wheel in the right track of the road. But don't expect a farmer with a load of hay to do so much relinquishing of the road, you wouldn't do it if you were on a load of hay; so get by him the best way you can and don't grumble if he is adverse to taking a chance you wouldn't take yourself.—Wisconsin Motorists.

A HORSE'S PETITION TO HIS DRIVER

Up the hill whip me not,
Down the hill hurry me not,
In the stable forget me not,
Of hay and grain rob me not,
Of clean water stint me not,
With sponge and brush neglect me not,
Of soft, dry bed deprive me not,
With sick or cold chill me not,
With hit or rein jerk me not,
And, when angry, strike me not,
A firm that employs many delivery wagons has printed in large letters on the back of the driver's seat when he sees it each time he climbs into the wagon the words: "Be good to your horse." These words have probably saved each horse many a blow.

Hello, Sam, what's feed worth today?"

"Well, Jim, I'll tell you. We have bran at $21, shorts at $24, cottonseed meal at $25, and oil meal at $32."

"Well, I guess I'll save money by taking bran. It's the cheapest, and my feed bills are too high already."

"After overhearing this conversation in front of a feed store, one naturally asks:

"Was Sam right? Is the cheapest feed necessarily the most economical?" Where does economy stop and loss in feeding value begin?"

In many instances it is the price rather than quality that sells the feeding stuff. A certain feed at even a higher price may however be much more economical to use than another which costs less. Abundant pastures or plenty of roughage may balance the ration better with this feed than with a cheaper kind.

Buyers of feeding stuffs in Wisconsin are becoming more and more discriminating. A corresponding willingness to advance to better standards is shown on the part of dealers and manufacturers.

Wisconsin farmers no longer need grope in the dark concerning any feeding stuff sold on the market, but may learn its quality by getting in touch with the feed inspection department at the College of Agriculture.

Besides collecting samples throughout the state, the department issues, each year, a bulletin listing all the feeds sold in the state, together with their actual composition. The amount of protein, fat, and fiber, as well as the price per ton at the time sampled and the name of the firm manufacturing it is included in the information given.

The different feeding stuffs such as oil meal, blood meal, tankage, corn gluten feed, shorts and bran are discussed and their feeding value explained. Terms of the trade, such as protein, ash, fat, often used in speaking of quality in feeds, are defined. This bulletin, "Facts for the Feed Buyer," will be sent to Wisconsin farmers upon application to the College of Agriculture, Madison.

POLITE MOTORISTS PUT OUT THE LIGHTS

When Meeting Another Machine on Country Road at Night—A Load of Hay Has the Right of Way.

When meeting another machine on a country road at night one of the nicest things you can do is to stop and extinguish your lights until the other machine has passed, and if you never were a gentleman before it will take a great deal of argument to convince the other driver of the fact. Again, when you are in no particular hurry and another machine comes up behind you and wishes the road give it to him. Don't dispute the road with him, it makes for bad tempers on both sides, and if he is half way decent he will be sure to get far enough ahead so you will not be bothered with his dust. When you are passing a machine going in the opposite direction give him his full half of the road; we have found that a good way to do this is to keep your left wheel in the right track of the road. But don't expect a farmer with a load of hay to do so much relinquishing of the road, you wouldn't do it if you were on a load of hay; so get by him the best way you can and don't grumble if he is adverse to taking a chance you wouldn't take yourself.—Wisconsin Motorists.

DON'T BUY A SILO ON

"Take It for Granted Basis"

No other farm equipment serves as useful a purpose as the silo; yet no other equipment is so much bought on the "Take it for Granted" basis. It naturally results in inferior silo construction being foisted upon the farmer, for which he pays exorbitant prices. Here is the way you can know—just take it for granted—you are getting the best in silo construction, and are paying for no more than you receive. Get posted on the

WILSON'S SERVICE TO AMERICA'S FARMERS

Remarkable Record Set Forth
in Letter by the President
on Signing Bill.

NEW LAWS; NEW OUTLOOK

Farm Loan Act, Federal Reserve Bank,
Provisions for Warehouse and Marketing Facilities Are Part of Program Executed by Democrats.

No administration has ever done so much to advance the agriculture interests of the United States as that of President Wilson. The record is set forth chiefly and effectively in a letter written by the President to Congressman A. F. Lever, Chairman of the Committee on Agriculture of the House of Representatives, as follows:

THE WHITE HOUSE.

Washington.

August 11, 1918.

My dear Mr. Lever:

It has given me much satisfaction to approve today the bill making appropriations for the Department of Agriculture for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1917, and for other purposes, because the bill not only makes very generous provision for the improvement of farm production in the nation and for investigations and demonstrations in the field of the marketing of farm crops and of the organization of rural life, but also contains three well conceived measures designed to improve market practices and the storage and financing of staple crops. As the passage of this bill marks the practical completion of an important part of the program for the betterment of rural life which was mapped out at the beginning of the administration, I feel that I cannot let the opportunity pass without conveying to you and your associates in both houses
my appreciation of the service rendered to the nation in strengthening its great agricultural foundations.

The record, legislative as well as administrative, is a remarkable one.
It speaks for itself and needs only to be set forth.

1. Appreciation of the importance of agriculture has been shown through greatly and intelligently increased appropriations for its support.

2. Particular pains have been taken to foster production by every promising means, and careful thought has been given especially to the matter of increasing the meat supply of the nation.

3. Greatly increased provision has been made, through the enactment of the Co-operative Agricultural Extension Act, for conveying agricultural information to farmers and for inducing them to apply it. This piece of legislation is one of the most significant and far reaching measures for the education of adults ever adopted by any government. It provides for cooperation between the States and the Federal Government. This is a highly important and significant principle. When the Act is in full operation there will be expended annually under its terms, from Federal and State sources alone, a total of over $3-000,000, in the direct education of the farmer; and this amount is being and will be increasingly supplemented by contributions from local sources. It will permit the placing in each of the 2,850 rural counties of the nation two farm demonstrators and specialists who will assist the demonstrators in the more difficult problems confronting them.

4. Systematic provision for the first time has been made for the solution of problems in that important half of agriculture which concerns distribution—marketing, rural finance, and rural organization.

5. Provision was made promptly for the creation of an Office of Markets and Rural Organization and the appropriations for this Office, including those for enforcing new laws designed to promote better marketing, have been increased to $1,200,000. The more difficult problems of marketing are being investigated and plans are in operation for furnishing assistance to producers of perishables through a market news service. A similar service for live stock interests will be inaugurated during the year.

6. The problems of securing the uniform grading of staple crops, of regulating dealings and traffic in them,
of developing a better system of warehouses, and of providing more available collateral for farm loans has been successfully dealt with.

7. Under the Cotton Futures Act standards for cotton have been established, the operations of the futures exchanges have been put under supervision and the sale of cotton has been placed on a firmer basis.

8. The United States Grain Standards Act will secure uniformity in the grading of grain, enable the farmer to obtain fairer prices for his product, and afford him an incentive to raise better grades of grain.

9. The United States Warehouse Act will enable the Department of Agriculture to license bonded warehouses in the various States. It will lead to the development of better storage facilities for staple crops and will make possible the issuance of reliable warehouse receipts which will be widely and easily negotiable.

10. Of no less importance for agriculture and for the national develop-

WILSON A PROGRESSIVE BEFORE PARTY WAS BORN

Eighteen months before the birth of the Progressive Party, Woodrow Wilson, then Governor of New Jersey, gave this definition of a Progressive and so classified himself in an address before the Kansas Society of New York, January 29, 1911:

"By 'Radical' I understand one who goes too far; by 'Conservative' one who does not go far enough; by 'Reactionary' one who won't go at all. I suppose I must be a Progressive, which I take to be one who insists on recognizing new facts,
adjusting policies to facts and circumstances as they arise."

Under Democratic influences
during the six-year period since stumpstomping was overthrown in the House of Representatives in 1910, ninety per cent of the program of reform advocated by the Progressive Party has been enacted into law. "Invisible government," which is now making desperate efforts to "come back," has been driven from power under President Wilson's administration and will have no place in Washington so long as he is in the White House.

MEXICO IS COMING BACK.

Saved From Conquest, It is Working
Out Its Own Destiny.

Encouraging news continues to come from Mexico, and the tirades of President Wilson's critics grow tamer all the while. Mexico has seen much misfortune, has borne many trials, has experienced many tragedies,
but there is a buoyancy to the present situation that gives cheer to friends of that long-suffering republic.

Americans, coming from that country, bring optimistic assurances. They declare that there is much better government there than for many years, that Carranza money is increasing in value, that business is picking up and that law is being respected.

The New York Evening Sun, a Republican newspaper, which usually criticizes everything President Wilson does, is compelled to recognize the facts, telegraphed from San Antonio, Texas, by William G. Shepherd, war correspondent of the United Press,
who has been one of the keenest observers of conditions both in Europe and Mexico. Mr. Shepherd, back from a long service abroad, was sent recently to the Mexican border. After a careful survey he reported conclusions which the Sun displays under the heading: "Mexico Coming Back; Business Grows Brisk—Confidence in Carranza Increases and Things Look Up."

In part Mr. Shepherd says:
Mexico is coming back. It's not a dead rubber nation; it's got a bounce in it. A summary of the news from the heart of Mexico, gathered in the last three weeks
along the border from Americans incoming from Mexico, shows beyond doubt that conditions are improving, confidence in Carranza is growing, the situation is gaining buoyancy, Carranza money is gaining in value and business is picking up.

PREVENTION OF INFANTILE PARALYSIS

To control the present epidemic of infantile paralysis, according to a statement issued by the United States Public Health Service today, the chain of infection between persons harboring germs of the disease and the well members of the community should be broken. Infantile paralysis is probably caused by a very minute organism found in the nasal, mouth and bowel discharges of those who have the disease or who are carriers of the germ without themselves suffering from the ailment. All of the steps in the spread of the infection are not known, but if this germ can be prevented from passing from the infected to the well person, the disease will cease.

Infantile paralysis is not a disease of recent origin. Sporadic or scattered cases have occurred throughout the country for many years, but it is only during the last decade that the infection has assumed epidemic proportions in the United States. The present epidemic in New York City, on account of its magnitude and virulence, has awakened the residents of many communities to the danger of the importation of the disease into their midst. The danger is real, but if due precautions are exercised it is believed that the epidemic will subside.

The actual control of the present
epidemic must be left to the city, state and federal authorities. These organizations will properly quarantine and care for affected persons, prescribe sanitary measures and limit as may be necessary the travel of infected persons to prevent the neighboring districts from the infection. Individuals and communities, however, can do much toward their own protection.

Poliomyelitis is probably spread directly or indirectly, through the medium of infective secretions. Account must therefore be taken by communities of every means by which such secretions are disseminated. Promiscuous expectoration should be controlled. The common drinking cup affords a method for the interchange of material of this nature and should therefore be abolished. Rigid cleanliness of glasses and utensils at soda fountains, in saloons and other public places should be enforced. Flies, roaches and other vermin, coming in contact with infected secretions, may thus directly bring about the development of disease. Therefore eliminate insects. Street and house dust bear a definite relation to the spread of many infections and it is not unreasonable to presume that they may be a factor in the dissemination of infantile paralysis. Maintain strict cleanliness of yards and alleys in order to prevent the breeding of insects and other vermin. See that all garbage and waste are properly cared for and collected at regular and frequent intervals. Guard all food supplies, especially milk and other perishable products. Digestive troubles of children arising from the ingestion of food of questionable quality may lower resistance. As-ties are to be discouraged, if not accompanied by children in infected localities. While the above measures are in a sense general, and applicable to many epidemic diseases, their importance should not be overlooked.

Individual preventive measures
may be thus summarized:
Summon a physician at once and immediately notify the health officer of the presence of the disease. If the disease is present in the community, medical aid should be sought whenever a child is sick, no matter how light the illness; many cases of infantile paralysis begin with a slight indisposition. Should the illness prove to be infantile paralysis isolate the patient, place a competent person in charge, and reduce all communication with the sick room to a minimum. Hospital care is preferable, not only for the child but in order to better safeguard against the spread of the disease. The sick room should be well ventilated and scurried. Nasal and mouth secretions should be received in cloth, placed in a paper bag and burned.
The clothing of the child, the bed linen, and the excretions should be disinfected in the same manner as for typhoid fever, that is by boiling, the long continued application of 5 per cent carbolic or other well recognized disinfectant. The same is true for dishes and drinking vessels.
Nurses should exercise the same precautions as regards cleanliness of hands in caring for infantile paralysis patients as for those afflicted with other infectious diseases.

A child may convey the disease to others even after a lapse of several weeks. For this reason quarantine should be maintained for a considerable period, usually from six to eight weeks, and the above precautions should be adhered to during this time. Disinfection of the room following recovery is advisable.

MOVIES ARE REGULATED IN SEVEN BADGER CITIES

Methods of regulating moving picture shows and censoring objectionable films have been developed by seven of the sixteen largest cities of Wisconsin, according to statistics compiled by the municipal reference bureau of the University of Wisconsin. Extension Division. Thirteen cities have annual license fees for motion picture theaters.

In four cities—Beloit, Fond du Lac, Madison and Manitowish—the censoring of objectionable films is in the hands of the mayor or chief of police. In Superior, the police commissioner exercises this duty. In eight cities
Ashland, Green Bay, Janesville, Kenosha, Marinette, Oshkosh, Sheboygan and Wausau—there is no regulation of the character of films.

La Crosse has a board of theater inspectors who may revoke licenses if halls are unsafe or unsanitary or pictures are objectionable. Milwaukee has a board of censorship of three members with a paid secretary, which passes upon every commercial picture.

The annual license fees vary from $10 to $100 in the various cities, but the average is between $25 and $50.
Janesville charges the lowest, $10,
and Oshkosh charges the highest,
$100; Milwaukee charges $30.
In some cases the license fee is based on seating capacity, usually about 20 cents per seat. Kenosha and Sheboygan have no license fee.

WILSON'S SERVICE TO AMERICA'S FARMERS

Remarkable Record Set Forth
in Letter by the President
on Signing Bill.

NEW LAWS; NEW OUTLOOK

Farm Loan Act, Federal Reserve Bank,
Provisions for Warehouse and Marketing Facilities. Are Part of Program Executed by Democrats.

No administration has ever done so much to advance the agriculture interests of the United States as that of President Wilson. The record is set forth chiefly and effectively in a letter written by the President to Congress on August 11, 1916, Chairman of the Committee on Agriculture of the House of Representatives, as follows:

THE WHITE HOUSE,
Washington,
August 11, 1916.

My dear Mr. Lever:

It has given me much satisfaction to approve today the bill making appropriations for the Department of Agriculture for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1917, and for other purposes, because the bill not only makes very generous provision for the improvement of farm production in the nation and for investigations and demonstrations in the field of the marketing of farm crops and of the organization of rural life, but also contains three well conceived measures designed to improve market practices and the storage and financing of staple crops. As the passage of this bill marks the practical completion of an important part of the program for the betterment of rural life which was mapped out at the beginning of the administration, I feel that I cannot let the occasion pass without conveying to you and your associates in both houses my appreciation of the service rendered to the nation in strengthening its great agricultural foundations.

The record of legislative as well as administrative is a remarkable one. It speaks for itself and needs only to be set forth.

1. Appreciation of the importance of agriculture has been shown through greatly and intelligently increased appropriations for its support.

2. Particular pains have been taken to foster production by every possible means, and careful thought has been given especially to the matter of increasing the most supply of the nation.

3. Greatly increased provision has been made, through the enactment of the Co-operative Agricultural Extension Act, for conveying agricultural information to farmers and for inducing them to apply it. This piece of legislation is one of the most significant and far reaching measures for the education of adults ever adopted by any government. It provides for co-operation between the States and the Federal Government. This is a highly important and significant principle. When the Act is in full operation there will be expended annually under its terms, from Federal and State sources alone, a total of over $5,000,000 in the direct education of the farmer; and this amount is being and will be increasingly supplemented by contributions from local sources. It will permit the placing in each of the 2,850 rural counties of the nation two farm demonstrators and specialists who will assist the demonstrators in the more difficult problems confronting them.

4. Systematic provision for the first time has been made for the solution of problems in that important half of agriculture which concerns distribution—marketing, rural finance, and rural organization.

5. Provision was made promptly for the creation of an Office of Market Investigation and the appropriations for this Office, including those for enforcing new laws designed to promote better marketing, have been increased to $1,200,000. The more difficult problems of marketing are being investigated and plans are in operation for furnishing assistance to producers of perishables through a market news service. A similar service for live stock interests will be inaugurated during the year.

6. The problems of securing the uniform grading of staple crops, of regulating dealings and traffic in them, of developing a better system of warehouses, and of providing more available collateral for farm loans has been successfully dealt with.

7. Under the Cotton Futures Act standards for cotton have been established, the operations of the futures exchanges have been put under supervision, and the sale of cotton has been placed on a firmer basis.

8. The United States Grain Standards Act will secure uniformity in the grading of grain, enable the farmer to obtain fairer prices for his product, and afford him an incentive to raise better grades of grain.

9. The United States Warehouse Act will enable the Department of Agriculture to license bonded warehouses in the various States. It will lead to the development of better storage facilities for staple crops and will make possible the issuance of reliable warehouse receipts which will be widely and easily negotiable.

10. Of no less importance for agriculture and for the national development is the Federal Aid Road Act. This measure will conduce to the establishment of more effective highway machinery in each State, strongly influence the development of good road building along right lines, stimulate larger production and better marketing, promote a fuller and more attractive rural life, and greatly to the economic welfare of all the people and strengthen the national foundations. The Act embodies sound principles of road legislation and will safeguard the expenditure of the funds arising under the Act not only, but will also result in the more efficient use of the large additional sums made available by States and localities.

11. The Federal Reserve Act benefits the farmer, as it does all the other people of the nation, by guaranteeing better banking, safeguarding the credit structure of the country, and preventing panics. It takes particular note of the special needs of the farmer by making larger provision for loans through national banks on farm mortgages and by giving farm paper a mortgaged period of six months.

12. It was essential, however, that banking machinery be devised which would reach intimately into the rural districts, that it should operate on terms suited to the farmer's needs, and should be under sympathetic management. The need was for machinery which would introduce business methods into farm finance, bring order out of chaos, reduce the cost of handling farm loans, place upon the market mortgages which would be a safe investment for private funds, attract to agricultural operations a fair share of the capital of the nation and lead to a reduction of interest. These needs and these ideals have been met by the enactment of the Federal Farm Loan Act.

I am glad to have had an opportunity to take part in the execution of this large program, which, I believe, will result in making agriculture more profitable and country life more comfortable and attractive, and, therefore, insure the retention in rural districts of an efficient and contented population.

Faithfully yours,
WOODROW WILSON,
Hon. A. F. Lever, Chairman,
Committee on Agriculture,
House of Representatives.

WILSON A PROGRESSIVE BEFORE PARTY WAS BORN

Eighteen months before the birth of the Progressive Party, Woodrow Wilson, then Governor of New Jersey, gave this definition of a Progressive and so classified himself in an address before the Kansas Society of New York City on January 20, 1911:

"By 'Radical' I understand one who goes too far; by 'Conservative' one who does not go far enough; by 'Reactionary' one who won't go at all. I suppose I must be a Progressive, which I take to be one who insists on recognizing facts, adjusting policies to facts and circumstances as they arise."

Under Democratic influences during the six-year period since standstillism was overthrown in 1910, ninety per cent of the program of reform advocated by the Progressive Party has been enacted into law. "Invisible government," which is now making desperate efforts to "come back," has been driven from power under President Wilson's administration and will have no place in Washington so long as he is in the White House.

MEXICO IS COMING BACK.

Saved From Conquest, It Is Working
Out Its Own Destiny.

Encouraging news continues to come from Mexico, and the friends of President Wilson are growing tamer all the while. Mexico has seen much misfortune, has borne many trials, has experienced many tragedies, but there is a buoyancy to the present situation that gives cheer to friends of that long-suffering republic.

Americans, coming from that country, bring optimistic assurances. They declare that there is much better government there than for many years, that Carranza money is increasing in value, that business is picking up and that law is being respected.

The New York Evening Sun, a Republican newspaper, which usually criticizes everything President Wilson does, has recently recognized the facts, telegraphed from San Antonio, Texas, by William G. Shepherd, war correspondent of the United Press, who has been one of the keenest observers of conditions both in Europe and Mexico. Mr. Shepherd, back from a long service abroad, was sent recently to the Mexican border. After a careful survey he reported conclusions which the Sun displays under the heading: "Mexico Coming Back; Business Grows Brisk—Confidence in Carranza Increases and Things Look Up."

In part Mr. Shepherd says: "Mexico is coming back. It's not a dead rubber nation; it's got a bounce in it. A summary of the news from the heart of Mexico, gathered in the last three weeks along the border from Americans incoming from Mexico, shows beyond doubt that conditions are improving, confidence in Carranza is growing, the situation is gaining buoyancy, Carranza money is gaining in value and business is picking up."

PREVENTION OF INFANTILE PARALYSIS

To control the present epidemic of infantile paralysis, according to a statement issued by the United States Public Health Service today, the chain of infection between persons harboring germs of the disease and susceptible members of the community should be broken. Infantile paralysis is probably caused by a very minute organism found in the nasal, mouth and bowel discharges of those who have the disease or who are carriers of the germ without themselves suffering from the ailment. All of the steps in the spread of the infection are not known, but if this germ can be prevented from passing from the infected to the well person, the disease will cease.

Infantile paralysis is not a disease of recent origin. Sporadic or scattered cases have occurred throughout the country for many years, but it is during the last decade that the infection has assumed epidemic proportions in the United States. The present epidemic in New York City, on account of its magnitude and violence, has awakened the realization of many communities to the danger of the importation of the disease into their midst. This danger is real, but if due precautions are exercised it is believed that the epidemic will subside.

The actual control of the present epidemic must be left to the city, state and federal authorities. These organizations will properly quarantine and isolate persons affected by the disease, and will take other sanitary measures and limit as may be necessary the travel of individuals in order to protect neighboring districts from the infection. Individuals should be much toward their own protection.

Poliomyelitis is probably spread directly or indirectly, through the medium of infective secretions. Accidents may therefore be taken by communities of every means by which such secretions are disseminated. Promiscuous expectoration should be controlled. The common drinking cup affords a method for the interchange of material of this nature and should therefore be abolished. Rigid cleanliness of glasses and utensils at soda fountains, in saloons and other public places should be enforced.

Food, coming in contact with infected secretions, may possibly directly bring about the development of disease. Therefore eliminate insects and vermin from the strict of a definite relation to the spread of many infections and it is not unreasonable to presume that they may be a factor in the dissemination of infantile paralysis. In the strict of cleanliness of streets, yards and alleys in order to prevent the breeding of insects and other vermin. See that all garbage and waste are properly cared for and collected at regular and frequent intervals. Guard all food supplies, especially milk and other perishable products. Digestive troubles of children arising from the ingestion of food of questionable quality may lower resistance. As a result, if not properly cared for, it may become a definite relation to the spread of many infections and it is not unreasonable to presume that they may be a factor in the dissemination of infantile paralysis. # WHAT THE PAPERS SAY OF MR. WITTER

ISAAC P. WITTER

Republican Candidate for STATE SENATOR

Marshall Record:
Mr. Witter has been a resident of this county from boyhood. He is a successful farmer and business man and just now is in the prime of life. He is a man of high character in politics and perhaps he would not have been a candidate for the office in which he is now running. He is a man of sound judgment and reasoning and of unimpaired principles.

Grant News:
Mr. Witter is a decidedly intellectual man of most pleasant address, conversational and honest. He is a man of high character in politics and perhaps he would not have been a candidate for the office in which he is now running. He is a man of sound judgment and reasoning and of unimpaired principles.

Pittsville Record:
In all the vitality of his campaign he is maintaining a calm and above board attitude, showing no undue eagerness to show, and is attending strictly to his own business.

Wisconsin Valley Leader:
We have confidence in the belief that Mr. Witter is a big enough man to represent the best interests of all the people in this district.

Grand Rapids Tribune:
Mr. Witter has every qualification for the office in question, a good education, a practical business experience and a keen sense of duty.

Loyal Tribune:
Isaac P. Witter of Grand Rapids passed through Loyal Wednesday. He strikes us as being a man of sound judgment, thoroughly business-like and just the man for State Senator.

Saukara Tribune:
It was through Mr. Witter's influence largely that the men at the Consolidated were given an eight hour day shift, the first paper mill in the state to give its men short hours. Any could go on indefinitely with the many good things Mr. Witter has done for our county seat town, but time and space will not permit. Give a man can be depended upon to give the state as a whole a good helping hand and to do the best possible for his constituents.

Neshville Times:
This is the first opportunity that the Neshville voters and to avoid Mr. Witter and there is no question but that he made a very favorable impression upon them. His efforts in behalf of the intelligent of his home city and the generation of which he is a part have been of such a nature that it is not likely that he will be mistaken in his estimate of the people of this county at the September primary.

STEVENS POINT MEN TO VISIT AT GRAND RAPIDS.
The Stevens Point business men, who are to make their annual tour of the surrounding country next month, will visit this city on September 4th, expecting to arrive here at 10 o'clock a. m. and stay for three days. The tour is put on for business purposes, the merchants going out around the country calling on their trade in the nearby towns. Of course the visit here is not to look for business, but as it is along the route a stop will be made. It is the intention to have as many of the local business men as possible gathered at the Elks Club that morning to meet the Stevens Point men, and they will probably be served with sandwiches and coffee or some refreshment of this character. This tour idea seems to be a good one and one that could be taken up by local merchants to advantage.

WISCONSIN IS NOT SUCH A BAD PLACE

They tell a story about a New Hampshire farmer who had lived all his life on one farm and never happened to get more than ten miles from home, until one day he made up his mind to visit a son who had located in a neighboring city. So he packed his carpet bag, got things ready and with his wife, took the train for the city. He had been on the train about an hour, and was something like thirty miles from home, when he peered out of the window of the coach, and turning to the old lady, exclaimed: "My Gosh, Maude, if this country is as big the other way as it is, it is certainly some sizable place."

So it is with a person who has spent eight weeks going to the Pacific and back. He cannot help thinking that the country is certainly of some size, even if it is not quite as large to the east as it is to the west. Probably the most remarkable thing of the whole experience is the fact that so little of the country is actually being used, that is, under cultivation. Of course much of it is not what could be called a garden, but even the part that is susceptible to cultivation is not being used to any great extent and it seems as if there would be plenty of land for everybody for many years to come.

Where the country is irrigated the water for miles in both large and small ditches, and in places they wind around the hills on little shelves, and it is almost impossible to believe that the water is not running up hill in places.

At Venetee we met Mrs. Wm. O. Part, a former Grand Rapids girl, and also Miss Leah Sten, who had been in the west about a month at that time, and announced that she liked it there and intended to stay.

In Montana we struck a section that we came to designate as the "ham and egg belt," because it was impossible to get anything to eat excepting ham and eggs. One does not mind ham and eggs for a hundred men's food, but when it comes to making a steady diet of them it gets so it makes you sick to your stomach every time a chicken runs across the road. One fellow told us that the reason they had no beef out there was because they shipped all their cattle to Chicago, where it was killed.

At Baker, Montana, they have been doing for oil. While they did not get any oil they struck a flow of natural gas, and the town is lighted with it. A pipe stands up near the well and there is a flame of gas burning there night and day, and it is shining in the daytime when the sun is shining it looks like a red flag fluttering in the breeze.

At Hettinger, North Dakota, we stopped and visited with Mr. and Mrs. Edward Daly. Ed is engaged in the garage business, and has a monopoly of the trade area, and is doing well. Hettinger is a new town, but it is building up rapidly, and Ed is one of the busiest fellows in the place.

After getting over into South Dakota we were delayed one day by rain, and the day afterward we had our first experience with gumbo. To plain men but one day's experience with it will convince you that it is something entirely different. It took us all one day to get thru 22 miles of it, and we were glad to quit.

We stopped that night at Wapala, an Indian village on the Standing Rock reservation. The lodging house we put up at will never be mentioned in the same class as the Waldorf-Astoria. It will be the restaurant, even the table cloths, even the this would be quite an improvement. The waitress told us that all they had was bacon and eggs, but as we had not expected anything else, we were not as badly disappointed as we might otherwise have been.

The next morning we got across the river at a bridge and felt that we had gotten into civilization again, and most of our troubles were over.

Wisconsin may not be any better than any of the other states we passed thru, but just the same it was a real pleasure to get back here once again. We were assured many times that we would like it the west if this may be true, but we cannot help thinking that there would never be a time when we would not think back of the green fields and wooded hills of this country and have a sort of yearning to get back here. The people of the west are a hospitable class of people and we got out of their way to help either an acquaintance or a stranger, and when one stops on a road every person that passes almost invariably asks if any help is needed. They do things on a larger scale out there than we do here, and when one passes thru the barren miles and miles where there are no people, it is a wonderful thing that the money came from to build them with and who built them, for in many places it is miles between the houses, and there is not even a fence beside the road to indicate that the land is owned by anybody.

We spent nineteen days on the road, coming home, being delayed about two days by rain and bad roads so that we made about the same time coming back as we did going out.

As there are many high hills out in the western country, there are necessarily many high bridges, as the gullies and rivers are in many instances very deep. The people told me of one woman who was driving an automobile over one of these bridges, when for some reason the steering gear on the car went wrong and she ran into the rail of the bridge and went over the edge. It was 65 feet down to the ground and the car made three complete somersaults on its way down, but landed right side up on its wheels.

There were four people in the car, and although they were shaken up somewhat when they struck bottom, none of them were seriously injured. They subsequently attributed their miraculous escape to the deep, luxurious upholstery in the Ford car in which they were riding. We neglected to ascertain whether or not the car was injured, but presume not.

One source of comfort that we had with us on the trip was one of the Pretin-Wabers outfits which consisted of a two burner stove, dishes and utensils for three people. It came in very handy on many occasions, as it was possible to stop and cook a meal on short notice, even on the desert, where a man might have hunted for a month without finding enough wood to make a toothpick out of.

The whole outfit was contained in a compact form like a suitcase and was very convenient. We showed the outfit to many people on the road and there was not a single one that did not pronounce it to be the nicest thing of the kind that they had ever seen.

WISCONSIN IS NOT SUCH A BAD PLACE

They tell a story about a New Hampshire farmer who had lived all his life on one farm and never happened to get more than ten miles from home, until one day he made up his mind to visit a son who had located in a neighboring city. So he packed his carpet bag, got things ready and with his wife, took the train for the city. He had been on the train about an hour, and was something like thirty miles from home when he peered out of the window of the coach, and turning to the old lady, exclaimed: "My Gosh, Mandy, if this country is as big the other way as it is this, it is certainly some sizeable place."

So it is with a person who has spent only a few weeks going to the city and back. He cannot help thinking that the country is certain of some size, even if it is not quite as large to the east as it is to the west. Probably the most remarkable thing of the whole experience is the fact that so little of the country is actually being used, that is, under cultivation. Of course much of it is not, what could be called farming in the proper sense of the word, but it is quite a surprise to find being used to any great extent and it seems as if there would be plenty of land for everybody for many years to come.

Where the country is irrigated the carry the water for miles in both large and small ditches and in places they wind around the hills on little shelves, and it is almost impossible to believe that the water is not running up hill in places.

The car was injured, but presume not. One source of comfort that we had with us on the trip was one of the Prentiss-Wabers outfits which consisted of a two-burner stove, dishes and utensils for three people. It came in very handy on many occasions, as it was possible to stop and cook a meal on short notice, even on the desert, where a man might have hunted for a month without finding a place to make a meal. The outfit was contained in a compact form like a suitcase and was very convenient. We showed the outfit to many people on the road and there was not a single one that did not pronounce it to be the nicest thing of the kind that they had ever seen.

Governor Dunne of Illinois Wants Legislature to Pass Act Giving Troops Right to Vote.

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 26.—A special session of the Illinois legislature will be called by Governor Dunne to convene early next week for the purpose of putting through an act permitting the Illinois soldiers to vote in the field.

Should enough senators pledge their attendance in Springfield on Friday of next week to pass the bill, Governor Dunne will call upon the assemblymen to convene next Monday at noon.

Under the call as tentatively outlined by Governor Dunne the legislature will be empowered to apply the act not only to Illinois militiamen on the Texas border but to every legal resident of Illinois serving in the United States army or navy anywhere.

It is assumed here that the plan of voting adopted will be like that in Illinois in the Civil war.

YIELD EIGHT-HOUR DAY TWO WARSHIPS SUNK

RAILROADS INSIST ON GUARANTY AGAINST LOSS. BRITISH CRUISERS NOTTINGHAM AND FALMOUTH TORPEDOED.

Ask Legislation Which Will Prevent the Recurrence of a Similar Situation.

Washington, Aug. 24.—The subcommittee of the railway executives appointed as a board of strategy to frame a reply to President Wilson's demand for concessions to the men that will prevent a general strike have made a report.

It is understood they have recommended the granting of the eight-hour day, but with a string tied to it. The purpose of the string, it is said, is to make possible a withdrawal of the concession if the president does not give satisfactory guarantees of much desired new legislation.

The announcement of the preliminary report of the committee of eight members followed within a few hours after a cabinet meeting on Tuesday at which President Wilson's attitude on the controversy was given unanimous approval by his official family.

It was admitted the principal hope now is to commit the president and the government to definite assurances providing two things:

1. Legislation which will prevent a recurrence of a similar occurrence before all the processes of a judicial investigation have been exhausted.

2. A practical guaranty that the railroads will be compensated for the money loss they claim they will sustain by granting an eight-hour day.

PLAN LONG MARCH FOR BADGER BOYS

HIKE OF EIGHTY-THREE MILES TO AUSTIN, TEX., PROPOSED BY ARMY HEADS.

MAY COVER A MONTH'S TIME

About 12,000 Men in Wisconsin and Illinois Brigades Will Be Affected by Order—Detail for Home Recruiting Selected.

San Antonio, Tex.—It has been announced officially that plans for a divisional maneuver are being made. The march of the Wisconsin and Illinois brigades with auxiliary troops, included in General Greene's new division, will probably be to Austin, Tex., a distance of 83 miles.

About 12,000 guardsmen from the two states will take part in the march, which will be the longest ever taken by a command of state troops of such size.

If the troops go to Austin, about three weeks, starting probably on September 1, will be taken in marching to the Texas capital, a week in returning, and the rest of the time in maneuvers at Camp Mabry.

The troops will march under field service regulations, living in "pup-tents, motor trucks and mule team wagons hauling supplies.

Badgers' Health Remarkable. Medical officers of the Wisconsin brigade express astonishment at the remarkable absence of serious disease among the 4,000 men in the brigade. Since their departure from Camp Douglas, there has not been a single case of typhoid, diphtheria, scarlet fever, mumps, smallpox or any other disease. Except for a few minor ailments and a small number of accidents, none of which have been of a serious nature, the health of the men has been excellent.

The First Field Hospital company, with the other field hospitals in camp, made a march to Nine Mile Hill, where they will remain for five days. During that time they will have a thorough tryout in field hospital drills.

Little real work has been done by the Badger boys since their return from Leon Springs. The program of light drills, dress parades and inspections will continue until the three regiments leave for New Braunfels.

Recruiting Detail Chosen. The following have been detailed to return to Camp Douglas, Wis., to assist in recruiting work:

First infantry—Second Lieut. Jos. B. Zawodny, Company K; Sergeant, Christian M. Brown of Company G; Sergeant, Glenn Cass, Company L; Corporal James Leister, Company E; Corporal Fred Reister, Company F; Private Joseph Kaska, Company F; Private Walter Galka, Company F.

Second infantry—Second Lieut. Thomas A. Watson, Company E; Second Lieut. Walter E. Roschinski, Company G; Sergeant, Albert Parker, Company K; Sergeant, Donald Matthews, Company M; Corporal Douglas Taylor, Company L; Private Joseph Hanus, Company A; Private Harry Alquist, auxiliary detachment.

Third infantry—First Lieut. George H. Hale, Company M; First Lieut. Harry J. Lyon, Company D; Battalion Sergeant, Major John B. Gay; Corporal Marion Benedict, Company A; Private Carl S. Cady, Company K.

The paymaster has again visited the Wisconsin camp and the men are in possession of a month's pay, which in most cases amounts to $15. The paymaster was welcomed with joy as the men have been penniless for a long time, many not being able to get money with which to make a few necessary purchases.

None Drop Out on March. Not a man of the Wisconsin brigade dropped out on the return march of twenty-five miles from Leon Springs to Camp Wilson.

"The troops could have covered the distance in one day instead of two," said Gen. Richardson. "However, the camp was not ready for them because of the storm Friday night. Then, too, the men had had no sleep the night before they started on account of the storm."

The soldiers will rest for about a week. Then they probably will march to Land's park at New Braunfels, where they will have an outing for a week or ten days. Divisional maneuvers are expected to follow, and it is possible that when they are concluded the men will return home.

JUSTICE WILLIAM H. TIMLIN IS DEAD

STATE SUPREME COURT MEMBER SUCCUMBS TO LONG ILLNESS AT MILWAUKEE.

HAD AN EVENTFUL CAREER

Received Hard Knocks in Early Life and Gained High Position by Self-Education—Was Appointed to Bench in 1905.

Milwaukee—Justice William H. Timlin, of the Wisconsin state supreme court, died at his home here after an illness of many months. He recently announced his intention to retire from the supreme court because of his illness.

Judge Timlin was born at Mequon, Wis., May 28, 1852, the oldest son of Edward Timlin, one of the early settlers in Washington county, and who was the county treasurer there in 1854. His father went to the civil war and was never heard from again.

Justice Timlin's school education was brief and was secured in a log school house. He was a farmer, wood cutter, and blacksmith before he was 16 years of age. He was woodsman and shingle cutter in a factory in Michigan. At the time of the terrible drought at Peshigo he was living in the vicinity and helped bury some of the bodies. He went to the Black Hills in search of gold, and upon returning to Wisconsin he became court reporter in Kewaunee county. Then followed a course of teaching and in 1879 he was elected superintendent of schools of Kewaunee county.

He took up the study of law and after being admitted to the bar in 1877 removed to Milwaukee to practice. In April, 1896, Mr. Timlin was elected as associate justice of the state supreme court.

GOV. PHILLIPS' RUNNING MATE

Not often has any party in Wisconsin presented to the voters a ticket made up of as notably capable and trustworthy men as are found on the ticket nominated at Madison, headed by Governor Phillips.

There is not a weak piece of timber on that ticket, and the candidates are reasonably well distributed about the state.

At this time the Tribune would speak of the candidate for lieutenant governor, Major Marshall Cousins of Eau Claire, where he has lived for many years, and where he is highly esteemed as a citizen and a man of affairs.

Major Cousins will not be heard during the campaign. There is an excellent reason why. He is with his regiment, the Third Wisconsin, in General Richardson's brigade, on the Mexican border. It is the second time this gallant gentleman and soldier has responded to the call of his country for service in the army. He was a member of the same regiment in the Spanish-American war, and his command was the only one from this state that had a day of campaigning under fire during that war.

All of the other commands were just as ready for war service as the Third and would have acquitted themselves well, but the opportunity was not given them.

Major Cousins resumed service in the National Guard upon the retirement of his father, and has been one of its leading spirits ever since, having reached the rank of major some time ago. He is the commander of a battalion. He has won honors and high praise has been given him by his superiors, and he has the respect of all in his command.

That convention did itself credit when it put this citizen soldier on the state ticket, and the people in the state will honor themselves if he is made the presiding officer of the state senate. He lacks none of the qualifications to fill the position, both with dignity and ability.

Major Cousins' command is on active duty, and is likely to remain there for some months. When asked if he was his intention to come home and take an active part in the campaign, he promptly replied: "My duty is with my command. I shall not return to Wisconsin to take part in the campaign. I did not seek the nomination. I can not afford as a soldier to turn my back upon this battalion."

Said like a soldier and a statesman, and it is a vivid reminder of what Rutherford B. Hayes said during the civil war when notified that he would return to Ohio he could be nominated and elected to Congress. He was then colonel of a regiment. His response was: "Any officer at a time like this who would leave his command to seek a political office is no worthy of citizenship in this country."

BABIES BEING CARED

Under present conditions one out of every eleven babies born in Wisconsin will succumb and die before the end of its first year of life. The majority of these deaths are due to carelessness and neglect—not willful neglect, but the neglect that is caused by ignorance. Only a few many of the mothers in Wisconsin are fully informed in the care of their babies.

The baby cannot be alternately accented neglect and tending over, according to the whim of the mother. It is not a baby that is a definite daily routine followed in the care of the baby.

To begin with, the baby must be bathed regularly every day, in warm water at an additional 10 degrees below the body temperature. This bath during the day helps keep the baby cool, comfortable and healthy. Give him an occasional cool, not cold, drink or piece of water. The baby's clothes must be clean, his bed and his room kept free from dust and germs. When he begins to crawl, his feet and hands must be washed frequently so that dirt may not find its way into his mouth.

The baby needs to sleep twenty hours during the first month and sixteen hours, at least, at the age of one year. Let him sleep outdoors every day, and have his windows open at night. Keep flies and mosquitoes away. Fresh air to his lungs is essential.

Keep the baby's feet warm, but not too hot. Give him a chance to kick and squirm with his clothes off, however. He must have his own bed, too.

If possible, the baby should always be breast fed. Mother's milk is the true baby's food, and is never contaminated or influenced by the weather. If artificial feeding is absolutely necessary, only pure cow's milk, modified according to the prescription of a competent doctor, should be given. Keep the milk on ice until just before feeding when it should be warmed. Do not give prepared foods. They contain too much starch. Babies' bowels should be trained to move regularly every day.

If the baby shows symptoms of sickness, call a doctor at once. Do not attempt to doctor your own baby. Delay in getting competent care may mean serious illness or death. Only a good physician knows what to do for a sick baby, or one who threatens to be sick. Do not let the throat turn into reality—nip it in the bud by putting the child under a wise doctor's care.

FRATERNAL DAY COMMITTEE

WISCONSIN STATE FAIR, TUESDAY, SEPT. 12, 1916

That "Fraternal Day" at the Wisconsin State Fair, Tuesday, Sept. 12, will be a big event is emphasized by the interest being manifested by fraternal societies throughout Wisconsin. William C. Kozz, in charge of the "Fraternal" office of the Allied Fraternities, opened the subject by the Milwaukee & Manufacturers' association of Milwaukee for this event, anticipated a big attendance. Fifty fraternal societies will be represented in separate tented cities on the spacious State Fair Grounds. Many societies will hold important meetings in Milwaukee during Fair week. Special prizes are offered for the dolls.

For information write William C. Kozz, 705 Germania Building, Milwaukee.

GOV. PHILLIPS' RUNNING MATE

Not often has any party in Wisconsin presented to the voters a ticket made up of a probable successor and a trustworthy man as are found on the ticket nominated at Madison, headed by Governor Phillips.

There is not a weak piece of timber on that ticket, and the candidates are reasonably well distributed about the state.

At this time the Tribune would speak of the candidate for lieutenant governor, Major Marshall Cousins at Eau Claire, where he has lived for many years, and who we highly esteemed as a citizen and a man of affairs.

Major Cousins will not be heard during the campaign. There is an excellent reason why. He is with his regiment, the Third Wisconsin, in General Richardson's brigade, on the Mexican border. It is the second time this gallant gentleman and soldier has responded to the call of his country for service in the army. He was a member of the same regiment in the Spanish-American war, and his command was the only one from this state that had a day of victorious marching under fire during that war.

All of the other commands were just as ready for war service as the Third and would have acquitted themselves as well, but the opportunity was not given them.

Major Cousins resumed service in the National Guard upon the president's return, and has been one of his leading spirits ever since, having received the rank of major some time ago. He is the commander of a battalion. He has won honors and high praise has been given him by his superiors, and he has the respect of all in his command.

That contention did itself credit when it put this citizen soldier on the state ticket, and the people in the state will honor themselves if he is made the presiding officer of the state senate. The back home of the qualifications for the position, both with dignity and ability.

Major Cousins' command is on active duty, and is likely to remain there for some months. When asked if it was his intention to come home and take an active part in the campaign, he promptly replied: "My duty is with my command. I shall not return to Wisconsin to take part in the campaign. I did not seek the nomination. I can not afford as a soldier to turn my back upon this battalion."

Said like a soldier and a statesman, and it is a vivid reminder of what Richard D. Hayes said during the civil war when notified that if he would return to Ohio he could be nominated and elected to Congress. He was then colonel of a regiment. His response was: "Any officer at a time like this who would leave his command to seek a political office is no worthy of citizenship in this country."

BABIES BEING CHEATED

Under present conditions one out of every eleven babies born in Wisconsin will die before the end of its first year of life. The majority of these deaths are due to carelessness and neglect—not willful neglect, but the neglect that is caused by ignorance. Only too many of the mothers in Wisconsin are fully ignorant in the care of their babies.

The baby cannot be alternately neglected and nursed over, according to the whim of the mother. There must be a definite daily routine followed in the care of the baby. To begin with there must be absolute cleanliness. The baby must be bathed regularly every day; in winter weather an additional sponge bath during the day helps keep the baby cool, comfortable and healthy. Give him an occasional cold, not cold, drink or pure water. The baby's clothes must be clean, his bed and his name kept free from dust, dirt, and clutter. What he is to eat, when, in his face and hands must be washed frequently so that dirt may not find its way into his mouth.

The baby needs to sleep twenty hours during the first months and fifteen hours, at least, at the age of one year. Let him sleep out-of-doors every day, and have his windows open at night. Keep flies and mosquitoes away. Fresh air fortifies him against pneumonia, tuberculosis and common colds. Train him to go to sleep by himself without rocking or nursing. The less a baby is handled the stronger he grows. Give him a chance to kick and squirm and cry. On the other hand, however, he must have his own bed, too.

If possible, the baby should always be breast fed. Mother's milk is the true baby's food, and is never contaminated or influenced by the weather. If artificial feeding is absolutely necessary, only pure cow's milk, modified according to the prescription of a competent doctor, should be given. Keep the milk on ice until just before feeding when it should be warmed. Do not give prepared foods. They contain too much starch. Babies' bowels should be trained to move regularly every day.

If the baby shows symptoms of sickness, call a doctor at once. Do not attempt to doctor your own baby. Delay in getting competent care may mean serious illness or death. Only a good physician knows what to do for a sick baby, or one who threatens to be sick. Do not let the threat turn into reality—nip it in the bud by putting the child under a wise doctor's care.
